

MOVEMENT MEDIA LAB
DanceLAB Series 2018
Call For Participation

Are you currently working on a dance film, or looking to begin a new project with movement as the main component? DanceLAB Series is calling for artists and filmmakers working with dance/movement to submit their ideas or works in progress for Movement Media Lab 2018.

Film or video in any genre: experimental, narrative, documentary, animation are invited to apply. The definition of dance and movement is broad, and all forms including but not limited to post modern, modern, world, tap, ballet, and hip-hop are encouraged and will be considered. The Movement Media Lab invites a process-based approach to analyzing and translating choreography/movement to the screen. The lab will also look at the relationship to the body in a 2D format, and highlighting movement through editing. Selected artists will show their finished works on Friday, September 28 or Saturday, September 29, 2018 at Danceworks Studio Theatre.

All artists will meet to have two work-in-progress critiques. Accepted artists may request further mentoring from the production manager at any time during the creation/rehearsal process.

Interested artists are required to submit written proposals and biographical information to Danceworks on or before Tuesday, May 29, 2018 using the attached proposal form.

Accepted artists and their performing cast members will be eligible to take two Danceworks studio classes per week for free from the date of acceptance through September 29, 2018. Limited studio space will also be available for rehearsals at no charge to artist up to 3 hours a week.
